ZO INSTRUMENTS®

ZO ULTRA LITE ZTR-30 TRUMPETS

VALUE = QUALITY + PRICE

Lightweight. Durable. Built for Performance.

The ZO Plastic Trumpet is a lightweight, durable performance instrument designed specifically for school music programs, beginning musicians, marching bands, and players who need a dependable trumpet that can withstand daily use. Unlike traditional all-brass trumpets, the ZO combines a high-strength polymer body with precision metal components where they matter most, producing a surprisingly rich, focused tone while dramatically reducing weight and maintenance.

Its corrosion-resistant construction makes it ideal for outdoor performances, pep bands, and educational environments where instruments receive heavy use. Comfortable ergonomics and responsive valve action allow students to develop proper playing technique without the fatigue often associated with heavier brass instruments.

Whether it's a first-year band student learning their first notes or a marching band member performing under Friday night lights, the ZO Plastic Trumpet offers a practical, durable, and fun alternative to traditional brass instruments while maintaining the sound quality and performance expected in today's educational music programs.

WEIGHING IN AT ONLY 1.1 LBS

Weighing in at only 1.1 lbs, the ZO Ultra Lite Polycarbonate Trumpet in Bb is lightweight, practically unbreakable, and most of all – fun.

Built-to-last, this ZO trumpet features specially formulated polymer which produces an impressively smooth sound while stainless steel valves offer excellent response, reliability and playability.
